CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

The wonder and love of a child's Christmas...

The wonder of Christmas is nowhere more apparent than in the eyes of children, but the season's magic touches the child in all of us, stirring memories of innocence and love. In this special supplement we bring you stories and poems written by the students of Victoria Street, J. Douglas Hodgson, Gooderham and Wilberforce elementary schools, along with messages of goodwill from area businesses. May it bring a smile to your face, and add to your enjoyment of Christmas.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Rudolph's first Christmas as a hero

Rudolph was unhappy. Last year he was a hero but ever since the other reindeer had been teasing him because they were jealous. Well, it's your red nose! Let's see you lift the bag and carry it to the sled. So Rudolph pulled and pulled. Finally the bag just bursted. By the time Rudolph was done the other reindeer were jumping and playing in the snow.

At supper time Rudolph sat in the corner feeling sorry for himself. Well the other reindeer sat and ate their mints pie. After supper Rudolph went to the window. "Nobody likes me!" Just then he saw himself in the window.

"My nose doesn't even shine any more! Santa there won't need me tonight. I guess I'll just leave." So he went.

Suddenly he heard a noise and then he saw some rabbits. They were crying. "We can't find our babies and the wolves are here to get them."

"Don't worry. I'll find them," he said.

He was walking when he heard a sound. He looked behind a bush. There were two little rabbits. "Come on! Jump on my back." Just then some wolves came but Rudolph was too fast.

Meanwhile Santa was saying "Oh where is Rudolph with his red bright?" Just then a rosy light lit up the ground. "Rudolph! It's you!"

"Yes, it's me. I was looking for some little rabbits."

"Did you find them?"

"Yes I did," as his nose glowed even redder.

"We're sorry we called you names."

"That's o.k. The important thing is that I stopped feeling sorry for myself."

Somewhere in a cosy burrow some rabbits were saying if it wasn't for Rudolph there'd be no Christmas for us.

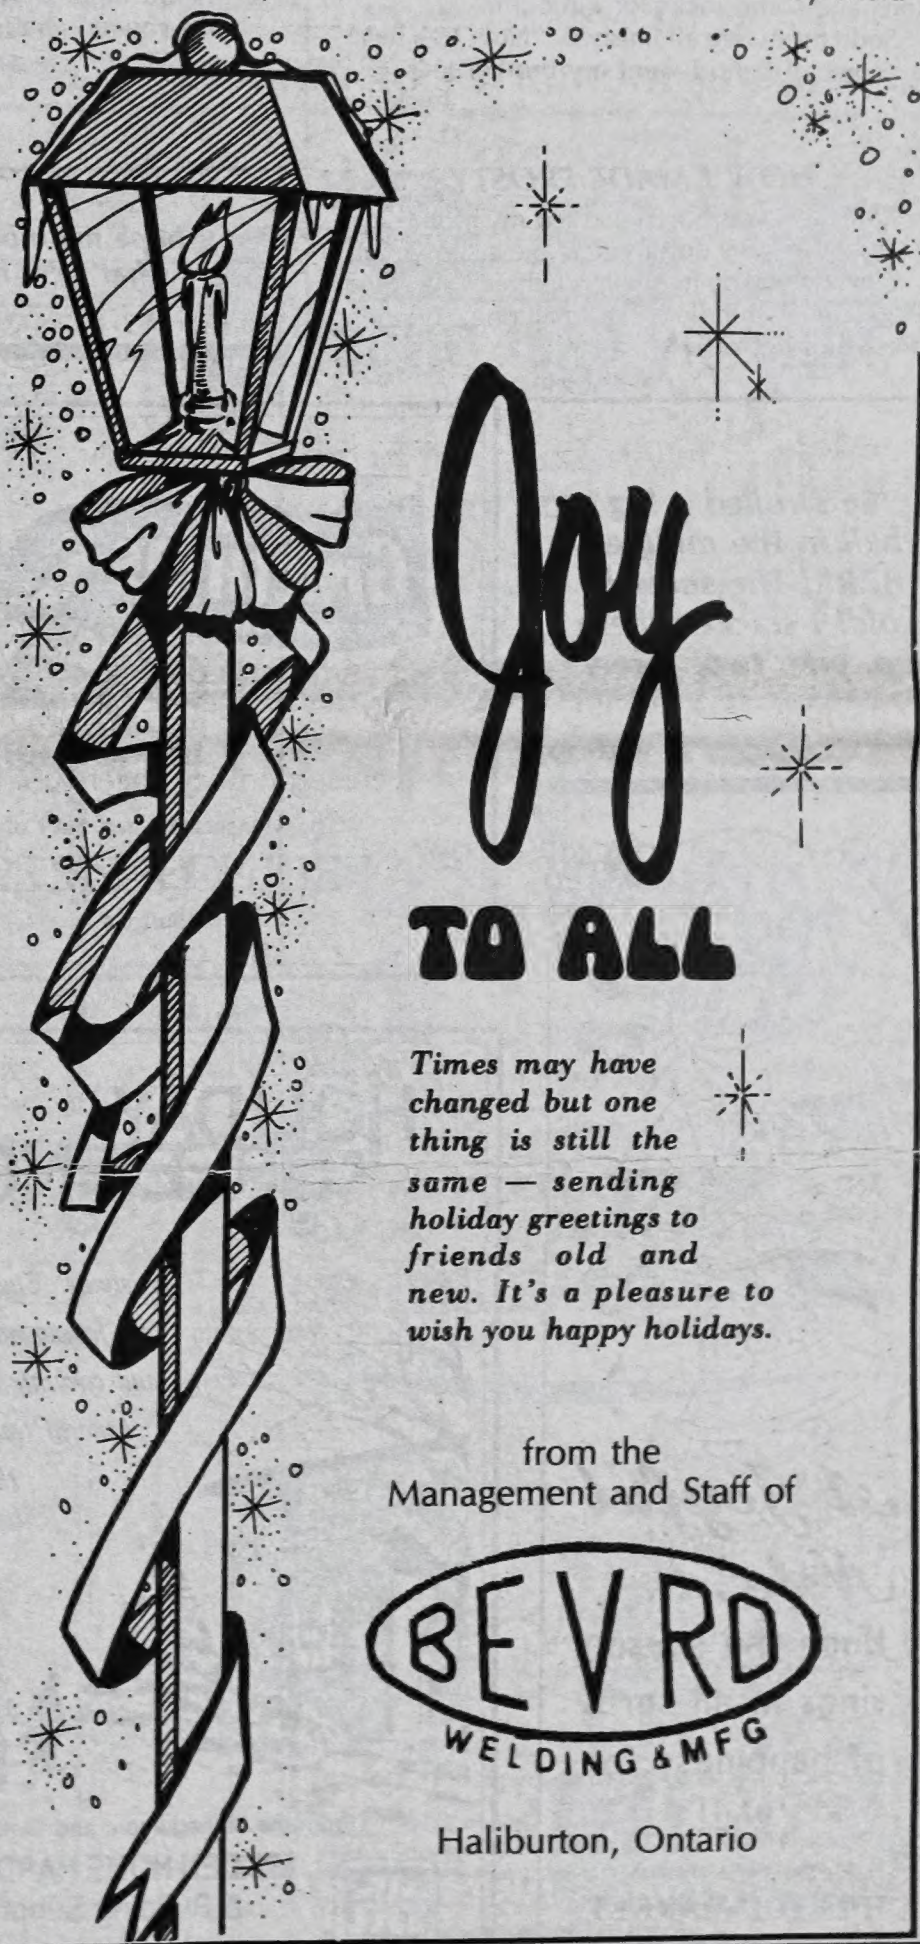

by Danielle Deslaurier

'At supper time Rudolph sat in the corner feeling sorry for himself while the other reindeer sat and ate their mints pie.'

THE SNOWMAN

"Hi! My name is Frosty. Some kids made me in a park. When winter is almost over, I have to go to the north pole with Santa. I can't go in a house because I will melt into a puddle on the floor. I like being a snowman. I have a big, tall top hat that is black. I have a carrot nose, a scarf that is striped, a broom and some more things. You can see them."

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Frosty the snowman in ten easy steps

"Yeah, it's snowing outside. Let's build a snowman," said Jack. Then John, his older brother said, "Then after that we can have a snowball fight."

"Okay fine with me. Any objections!" Nobody put up their hand. "All right, let's get off our butts and get moving. Fred you do the head. Jack you do the body and I do the bottom. And the rest of you, we need a scarf, a carrot, a tall black hat, two coal rocks, three buttons and some rocks for a mouth."

Soon they were all finished. "Now let's have a snowball fight. I want my brother Jack."

by Mike

HOW I MADE FROSTY

One day I was bored. I asked my mom what I could do. Why don't you make a snowman?

How do you do it? Well, roll three balls. One large, one in middle and a small one, and then dress him up, okay?

So I rolled a big ball, in the middle. Brrr! The snow is cold! And one that's small. I stacked them up one, two, three.

Now, how do I dress him up? I know! I'll need a hat, a broom, a scarf, a carrot, some rocks, a pipe, some sticks and some yarn. By the time I was done, it was time for supper.

One more thing you need is a name. "How about Frosty? O.K.? Good night."

"Good night Danielle."

Did you say that??

The End.

by Danielle

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME

Christmas means sharing love and giving presents to each other. Jesus birthday is at Christmas time. I like to sing carols too. Sometimes I get cards at Christmas. Christmas is exciting! I like the decorations on the tree.

"Do you like decorations? Have you seen a reindeer before? I have seen Santa before. Have you?"

There is happiness at Christmas. My mom and I are going Christmas shopping on Saturday. I can't wait til Christmas. I'm going to write my letter to Santa soon. I hope my mom likes what I get her for Christmas. Same with my Dad.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

What Christmas means to one student

Christmas means happiness and sharing. I love Christmas. It is fun. On Christmas we put a treat out for Santa Claus. On Christmas it is Jesus' birthday. We decorate our tree. I love Christmas. Do you?

I sometimes hear reindeer. I love to give presents. My family sings Christmas carols. Does your family sing Christmas carols? Christmas is a holy day. My mom is going Christmas shopping on Saturday.

I just can't wait until Christmas. But I just will hate to wait until Christmas. Christmas is exciting. Last night after hockey I made some Christmas cards. Next weekend I am going to Peterborough with my friend to go Christmas shopping. I love Christmas. Do you?

by Thera

FRED THE SNOWMAN

Hi! I am Fred. Thank you for building me. I appreciate it. Follow me. We will have fun. Let's play hide and go seek and we will have fun. Do you like the pipe? I do. I am getting cold. Can we go inside? Thank you.

Much better... but after a while he melted. But the kids made him again.

by Aaron

FROSTY

"My name is Frosty. What is your name?"

"Do you want to play with me? We can go skating or whatever you want to do. It will be fun. We can even go to my grampa and gramma's house and play. We can play inside or outside. If you do not want to play at all we can go in the house and talk or watch t.v. We can go upstairs and play in my bedroom."

by Amy

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME

Sharing love and giving is what Christmas means to me. At Christmas I like to put decorations on the Christmas tree and sing carols. After Christmas I send a thank you gift and a card to my friends. My mom plays a trick on me. She puts up mistletoe and when I get out of bed—smack! I've been kissed. Gross! Do you like Christmas? I do!

by Michael

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME

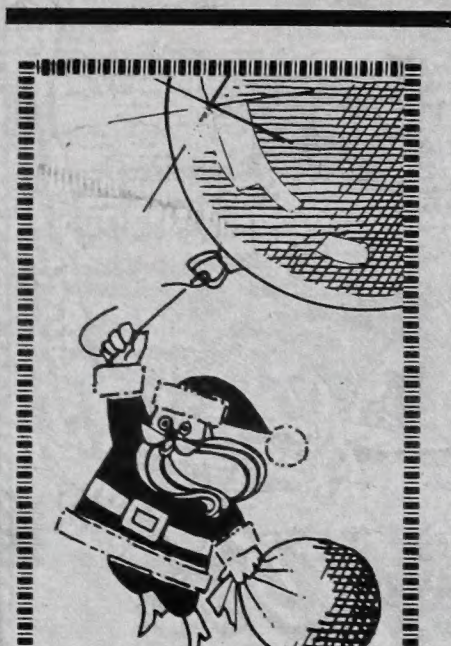

I like Christmas. It is special to me because it is love and sharing. Christmas is happiness because it is a Jesus birthday and you get presents.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Christmas is a time for love

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME

I think Christmas is a time for sharing love and joy. We have lots of love all the time in our house. Christmas is also Jesus' birthday. It is a Holy day. On Christmas Eve my parents, friends and I go off singing carols. We send cards. We hang lots of decorations like mistletoe, lights and more. We have fun. It is exciting! Santa and his reindeer come on Christmas Eve. We get up and open our presents. Great!

by Shannon

CHRISTMAS EVE

It was Christmas Eve. I was already in bed. Mom and Dad called me down because Santa Clause had already come. I opened my presents. I got from Mom and Dad a ghetto blaster and computer. Then I went to bed. In the morning I opened the rest of my presents. I went to Dunville after and from my aunt I got a double water bed. It was great. When I got home I set it up and filled it with water. From my cousins I got a bunch of makeup.

by Jaime Steele

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

It was the night before Christmas. All through the house not even a mouse was stirring. For down through the chimney came Saint Nick. He landed with a bounce. He filled all our stockings but one. My brother got a lump of coal. He put his finger beside his nose and up the chimney he rose.

by Krista W., Grade 4

RUDOLPH

One Christmas night Santa said to his elves "Tomorrow is Christmas night. Do we have all the toys!"

"Yes Santa. How is Rudolph."

"He's okay." Santa left to see Rudolph and the other reindeer. "How's the sleigh coming?"

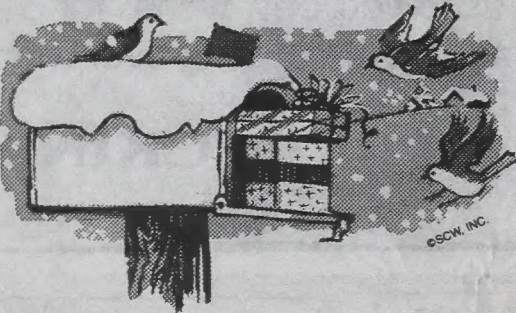

"We just have to paint it."

"Okay and when you get done you can get some sleep and tell the other elves they can go to bed." The next morning Santa started getting the presents ready. That night Santa got rearing and said, "Rudolph with your nose so bright, won't you pull my sled tonight?"

"Yes Santa. I feel better today Santa. Let's move out." Santa's sleigh flew until they had it all done, then when Santa got some hot water to soak his feet in, when he was lying there, the cat ate his last cookies.

A midnight encounter with a jolly Santa

It was the night before Christmas when I heard a bell noise. I quietly got out of bed and was I surprised. I saw Santa. He said "Come here." I went. He said, "Sit on my lap." I sat on his lap and he gave me a present. Was I surprised when I opened it and saw a Bigfoot. I went in my room and played for a little bit then I went to bed.

I SAW SANTA

One night I was sleeping and I heard a bang! It must be Santa. I quietly got out of bed and sneaked downstairs. There was Santa brushing off himself. Then his toy bag dropped right on him. "Ouch!" he said. I went down and started snooping in his bag. He swung around and saw me. "Hi Santa! Want some cookies?" "Ho Ho!", he said. "Howdy" I said, "got anything for me?" "Well as a matter of fact, I do." "Oh boy!" I said, "It's a car! Oh boy! Thanks Santa." "You're welcome."

by Luke, Grade 4

THE TRAVELLERS

One night there were two travellers coming from Nazareth and going to the town of Bethlehem. The two travellers were Mary and Joseph. Mary was great with child. When they arrived in Bethlehem they couldn't find a single place to bear her child.

'Then his toy bag dropped right on him. "Ouch!" he said. I went down and started snooping in his bag. He swung around and saw me. "Hi Santa, want some cookies?" "HO, HO" he said.

The kidnapping of Rudolph

By and by they found a little nook in a stable. In a manger cold and dank Mary's boy child was born. Above the little town of Bethlehem there shone a new bright shining star. Shepherds out in the hills saw the bright star and followed it to the town of Bethlehem and to the stable where the child was. Other shepherds were frightened when angels said, "Go to the town of Bethlehem and see the baby boy."

ONE NIGHT

One night I heard a noise. I walked out of my bedroom and down the stairs. I peeked through the rails. I saw a big chubby man with a red and white suit. He had soot all over him and even on his sack. He was putting presents under the tree. There were big and small, short and long presents. I went up and got my brother. When he came down he tripped on a book and fell down the stairs. Santa turned around and saw us. Then we ran upstairs and never saw him again.

by Steven Davidson, Grade 4

WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS

A long time ago in Bethlehem there was a Saviour born on Christmas day. His name was Jesus Christ, so that's why we get Christmas. If he wasn't born you wouldn't get Christmas. Do you know what the date means? It means nineteen hundred and eighty-eight years since Jesus Christ was born.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

SANTA'S NICE

Santa Claus is a nice person because at Christmas time he brings you gifts. But Santa is not the only nice person. Your mom and dad are nice to you too. Some of your friends and relatives should be nice to you and give you gifts. That's what people like that are for. Christmas is a special day too because it is Jesus birthday. Jesus name means Saviour. He has two names. His other name is Emanuel. Emanuel means God with us. They both mean something special.

Amy Davidson, Grade 2

A STORY

Once in a little town called Bethlehem Mary and Joseph went there to be taxed. Before they left Mary was visited by an angel. The angel said to call the baby Jesus. Joseph knew that the baby was going to be born soon so they looked for an inn for Mary to rest. But every one was full.

'Christmas is a special day because it is Jesus' birthday'

When they came to an inn the innkeeper said you can use my stable. The donkey had a drink in the watertrough. The baby Jesus was born. The baby Jesus was born 1988 years ago. Christmas is a holy day.

Michael J. Anderson, Grade 3

WHAT HE GOT

For Christmas I got a turbo. It was fun. I got snow in my face. My mom sat on it and broke it. It was funny.

Shane Woodcox, Grade 3

SANTA'S DONKEY

I saw Santa's donkey one day old. His head was too big for his neck to hold. His legs were shaky, long and loose. They rocked and staggered so they weren't much use.

He tried to gallop and frisk a bit. But he wasn't sure of the trick of it. His face was wistful and left no doubt. That he needed some thinking about.

So he blundered around, an adventuresome quest, and lay flat on the ground to rest.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Mary had a baby like the angel said

Joseph were gone to Bethlehem to pay there taxes. On their way an angel said onto them, you shall have a baby born that night. A star shone very bright.

Mary had a baby just like the angel had said. The sheprds were watching their sheep. Suddenly a light shon so bright that the sheprds were frightend be not afraid I bring you grate joy.

The wisemen saw the star. They follodit. Soon they were at the spot. They brot gifts for the baby laying in a manger. They put ther gifts down. Mary smild. The star was still there.

When Jesus was a child he got many gifts from people who saw him. Jesus had many names like Jeseus, Emanuel and Saviur. He was very nice to people who loved him.

When Jesus was gron up he was the king of the world. He went down to earth to die for my sins that I have done. When Jeause died he was nalde to the cross. he was nald in the feet, hands and stomache.

Thats why we decarait Christmas. We decorait with thees parcels and angels sing like birds. We sing carols. We now that they were three kings, 6 sheprds and Mary and Joseph and the baby.

There were animals, cows, horses, oxens, donkeys, cats and dogs.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

How little elf robots saved Christmas eve

It was one week before Christmas. Santa's elves were working harder than ever. Forty elves were too sick to work. So only ten elves were working.

Santa worried about his elves and Christmas. Santa worried about how he would get his toys made. But he could not think of anything. Then Santa had an idea. He called those ten elves into his house. He said to the elves that they should stop making toys. Then he said to build one hundred little elf robots. Then after they had the robots the real elves could let the robots do all the work. Then the real elves could have a break.

The plan worked out perfectly. That was the most toys Santa ever had to deliver. It was the best Christmas ever!

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

The night Mrs. Claus made Santa's journey

Santa said "I must go and warm up the sleigh".

Mrs. Claus said, "You can't, you have the flu!"

Santa said to Mrs. Claus "Can you go to house to house and go down the chimney and give the children their gifts?"

"Well, I guess so," said Mrs. Claus.

So the next night Mrs. Claus went out and warmed up the sleigh. A few minutes later Mrs. Claus was gone.

The End.

WINTER FUN IN HALIBURTON

Winter comes only once a year

So let's get into the joy and cheer.

I like snow that's pure and white

So it's easier to have a snowball fight.

That doesn't mean there's not ice so we can skate.

Even though Christmas is fun,

It's a lot better in Haliburton.

Surprise, surprise, you haven't seen nothin' yet.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

The Ghost Busters Christmas story

On December 24, Christmas Eve, the Ghost Busters went to sleep but Slimer stayed up. Slimer waited for two.

Then Slimer said, "That is enough waiting." Then Slimer dressed up as Santa but when he was just putting on the beard, the real Santa Claus came in.

Slimer jumped right out of his slime. Then Slimer started to bug him about what he got. Santa put down all the presents and left. Then Slimer went upstairs and tried to wake up Peter, Winsten, Ray, Egon and Janine.

They all shouted at Slimer, "Go away!" Slimer went downstairs and opened up all his presents. After he opened all his presents he went upstairs and tried to wake them again. They all shouted, "Go away!"

Then Slimer went downstairs and rang the emergency alarm. Peter, Winsten, Ray, Egon and Janine went downstairs but it was Slimer. So they were just going up the stairs and the real emergency alarm rang.

They found out where it was, then went down and zapped all the ghosts. Then when they got back it was time to open their presents.

Peter said, "The turkey is done, come and get it!" As you know Slimer was the first one there. They all said to Slimer, "Don't pig out." So Slimer didn't.

Then they all went to bed and wished us a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Ho Ho Ho!

Jamie Cowen, 6B

WHY SANTA IS FAT

A very very long long time ago Santa was making his trip around the world delivering toys. Everything went perfectly until he got to Italy. When he got to Italy he had some navigational trouble and came so close to the Leaning Tower of Pisa (which was just called the Tower of Pisa then), that he made is lean.

Everything went smoothly, until he got to Egypt. He smacked right into the Sphinxes nose. But this Santa was too skinny and died when he hit the ground.

But if it was the Santa we have now, he would bounce!

Santa gets some help from an elf

BOBBSEY SAVES CHRISTMAS

"Santa! You look awful!" Mrs. Claus exclaimed.

"I feel awful!" Santa moaned.

It was Christmas Eve. Santa had just been getting ready to start his rounds when he started to feel less than well.

"You go to bed, Santa," Mrs. Claus urged.

"The children will have to do without toys this year," Santa sighed. He crawled into his bed. Bobbsey, the head elf, was listening at the door. "No toys?" he yelped. "What can I do? As Santa's head elf it's my duty to... Wait! I could deliver the toys! That's what I'll do!" Bobbsey dashed out to the stables. The reindeer were waiting in their stalls.

"Away you go," he said and let them out. Elves waiting by the sleigh expertly hitched the reindeer up. Bobbsey climbed into the sleigh and took the reins in his hands. Before he knew it, the reindeer were flying through the air.

Bobbsey went from house to house until all the toys had been delivered. He was tired, but happy. Because of Bobbsey the elf, there would be happy children on Christmas.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Grandparents help make Christmas fun

Christmas isn't the gifts and the candy
It's the thought of those gifts that make you feel dandy.

Some think that gifts are what please us
But really it's the birth of dear Jesus.
When you look at stars at night
You may see the Christmas star shining bright.
Christmas is a time for love
Not a time to push and shove.

Derek Rodley, 6B

THE WEIRDEST CHRISTMAS

It was the day before Christmas, and all through the house, everyone felt pleasant, even the mouse. With mom decorating the tree and dad wrapping presents, He told me to get out of the house before it was Christmas.

Everyone then was more pleasant, even the mouse. I woke up this morning and what a surprise. The mouse was sitting on the counter eating the pies.

It was the night before Christmas and Santa was there, sitting in our lazy boy chair. I raced upstairs and checked the roof, and there was Rudolph changing his hoofs.

I jumped on my sister, to make sure she was up. And went downstairs to see what was up.

ONE CHRISTMAS

One Christmas Santa was going down the chimney to give a little boy a teddy bear. Then he went up the chimney and was walking towards his sled when he tripped and sprained his ankle. He crawled to his sleigh and rode to the North Pole. He crawled to the door and Mrs. Claus helped Santa over to a chair. Then Mrs.

Claus helped Santa over to a chair. Then Mrs. Claus called the doctor. The doctor told Santa to stay in the chair but Santa had to get up because he still had to deliver presents. He got in his sleigh and rode off. He delivered all the presents and when he got back he sat on the chair and put his sore ankle on an ottoman. Mrs. Claus brought him a cup of tea.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

It was the night before Christmas...

It was the night before Christmas. Santa's elves were on strike. So poor Santa had to make all the presents by himself. It took him fourteen hours to make the presents. Then it took him three more hours to wrap the presents. It took three more hours to put them in his sack. Finally he was finished. He loaded the sack into the sleigh. He said, "Well I am going to have a rest." And he did. But when he woke up it was twelve o'clock sharp. He ran as fast as he could to his sleigh. Of course his tummy shook like a bowlful of jelly. He hitched the reindeer up to the sleigh and then went up up and away. He gave all the presents to the good girls and boys.

Josh Blakey—Grade 4

CHRISTMAS TIME

Christmas time is a time for loving. Time for giving and sharing. Time for us to celebrate the Christ Child's birthday. Time for friends. Time for lights. Time for presents and candycanes. This is all a part of Christmas time.

Katrina Smith—Grade 3

THE YEAR MRS. CLAUS TOOK SANTA'S PLACE

Santa wasn't feeling very well on Christmas Eve so Mrs. Claus took Santa's place. The elves couldn't help her because they were sick too. So she called some of her friends from outer space. They came in a flying saucer. They helped her a lot. When they were finished they got Santa's sleigh but they did not have any reindeer. So they took their flying saucer and put it in front of the sleigh. Away they went with sparkles behind them. Soon they were finished all of the work so they sat down and had cookies and milk. After they finished their treats they started to head home. They said to Mrs. Claus, "We'll help you if Santa needs us next year." Mrs. Claus said, "Thank you and have a Merry Christmas." "Wocka Locka," said the aliens, which means "Merry Christmas".

SANTA'S FIRST FLIGHT

When Santa took his first flight he fell off and broke his leg. Mrs. Claus took over his place. When Mrs. Claus got home Santa was not there. He was at the hospital because he wasn't well. Santa had a cast on his leg. He came home just in time to see his friends before they went home. So from then on Santa wore his seatbelt so he would not fall off the sled.

Dasher takes sick leave one Christmas eve night

THE SICK REINDEER

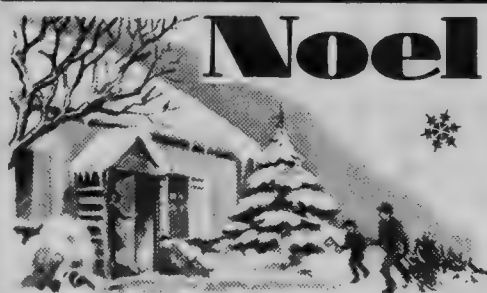

One day Santa was getting ready for Christmas. The elves were making toys for the kids. But one reindeer was sick in bed. Santa had to go without him. Santa got all the other reindeer ready when out came Dasher. He said, "I am going."

"No, you are sick." So Santa went up in the sky to all the houses. It was five o'clock when Santa got back home. Santa went in the house and got his stuff off. Then he said, "That's all for this year." Then Santa went to bed with a happy dream. In the morning Santa was going to feed Dasher and he found his standing on the hay. Santa said, "Dasher, you are sick." Dasher was sad because he couldn't play any games with the other reindeer. So Santa took him into the house and sent him to bed.

Then an elf called Dasher to come over to him. Then Dasher went over to the elf. The elf did some magic. All of a sudden a big flash appeared and the reindeer was happy, because he wasn't sick now. Dasher went to Santa. "Santa, I am all better now and I will be able to go with you next year," said Dasher.

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

The year Mrs. Claus stepped in to save Christmas

One Christmas day Santa took his final flight before he had to deliver presents to children. But he had an accident and fell off his sled and broke his arm so Mrs. Claus had to take Santa's place. The next hour Mrs. Claus got into the sled and she told the reindeer to go. They took off. She swooped down and almost hit the elves. They screamed and ran away into the workshop. Mrs. Claus stopped the reindeer and ran after them. The elves hid in different places. Some hid on shelves, some in the toybox and some behind the dolls. Mrs. Claus found all of them. It was Christmas night and Mrs. Claus had to hurry to get to every house in the world. The next morning everyone was happy, especially the children. All of them were playing with their new toys. Next year Santa took the sleigh and Mrs. Claus took a rest.

A tale about a happy little orphan girl

There was a little orphan girl who expected nothing for Christmas. For tonight Christmas Eve. She lived in the forest. She went to gather some wood. Then she came back with her arms full of wood. But Wait! On the front porch was Santa. She dropped the wood. She rubbed her eyes. It was really Santa. Santa was waving to her, "Would you like to ride in my sleigh?" "Sure." So she got in his sleigh and off they went. When they came back Santa gave her a pretty little Christmas tree and some presents. "Thank you." And Santa left. She opened her presents and inside one was a little tea set she wanted. And she had a merry Christmas after all. And she was VERY VERY HAPPY. The End.

WHERE WAS SANTA!

One eve as I was in bed I heard a noise. It was Vixen. She was trying to tell me something so I followed her to the North Pole. I left her with the other reindeer and went to the house. I could hear Mrs. Santa weeping when she opened the door she told me Santa was missing. Just then Santa came out of his secret workshop. He had just finished all of the children's presents. Santa said "Merry Christmas". Then I heard Mom calling "Merry Christmas Sally!" It was all a dream...

CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

Guess who?

One Christmas night when everybody was asleep even your mom and dad. You could hear something and guess who it was. It was Santa Claus the jolly old fellow. You could hear the bells as he came down. The bell went ding-dong-ding-dong. The house that he went to was where Christmas started. He got off the sleigh and said "Ho Ho Ho, Down the chimney we go", and puff all that dirt in that chimney. I got out of the chimney and saw a beautiful Christmas tree. It was so beautiful. He gave them more Christmas presents than anyone but these were special ones. They weren't like the other kind like toys and all that. They were different ones and the first one was a Christmas carol. It was "Oh Christmas Tree" and that was the best one. The second one was a teddy bear to give love and care for, and she did and the last is Santa...

ONE CHRISTMAS

Once upon a time at Christmas I saw Santa in his sleigh with his reindeer and we had a Christmas tree and I peeked out of my door and I saw Santa putting gifts under the Christmas tree...

Dear Santa:

I would like a remote control car and big foot with head lights that work and a bunch of clothes... Darol Sisson—3A.

Dear Santa:

How's Rudolph. I hope you and Mrs. Santa are having a good year. I bet your elves are working hard. I can't wait until Christmas. Anyway, I better tell you what I would like for Christmas. I would like a remote control car, a boglin, and Ecto-2. Love... Andrew Postlethwaite.

LOST ON THE WAY

It was 1988, December 24, Christmas Eve, Haliburton, Ontario. I had just gotten home from the Christmas mass and into bed when I heard the clip clop of 36 little hooves and the shhhshhhshhh of the runners of a sled.

I got out of bed as quick as a flash and got dressed in record time. I put a chair under the basement window and got out of the house. I looked onto the roof and there were eight tiny reindeer and a big red sled, with a real big red guy in the back.

Then all of a sudden something touched my shoulder. I jumped up and turned around to see none other than Rudolph! Well, was I surprised.

A fast ride!

Rudolph told me that Santa Claus was in need of my help and was in the house looking for me while he was putting presents under the tree. Then womp-up came Santa Claus out of the chimney! He saw Rudolph and I and immediately came over to tell me what I had to do.

I was in the sled about 20,000 metres above land and going at about 100 m.p.h. I was scared! Then Santa told me to tell the reindeer to go to any place I wanted to go, to drop off presents. I told the reindeer to go to London and the reindeer kept going. Santa was asleep when we flew into a heavy fog. We couldn't see our noses and Rudolph had gone home because he said it was a clear night.

All of a sudden CRASH!! We hit the ground. Santa woke up and together we checked each reindeer and the sled. The reindeer were alright but the sled was broken. Santa called Mrs. Claus on the cellular phone and told her what had happened.

She said that she would send a new sled with Rudolph guiding a new team. But Santa said that Rudolph could manage on his own. Three hours later at 5:30 in the morning Rudolph caught sight of the broken sled. After Santa had rehit the sleigh he told me that we would have to visit father time so he could turn back the clocks, so that there would not be any unhappy kids on Christmas morning.

It was a short trip to father time. We got up to about 40,000 metres high and Santa pressed a red button on the dashboard of the sled. Then we passed through a tunnel of lights and we were there.

Santa told father time what had happened and he was more than happy to help. He turned back all the clocks of the world with his master clock.

Then Santa had lots of time to get all the presents distributed and there was not a single unhappy kid on Christmas morning.

SNOWFALL

Snow is everywhere
Now flying through the air
On a
Warm sunny day
Falling here
And there, then
Lying and twinkling as it seems to Laugh at me.
